

18th September 2020
29th Ellul 5780

Dear all,

Shanah Tovah - Happy New Year!

This year's celebrations are going to be unlike most others and yet I am sure we will still find ways of safely enjoying our personal favourite parts of this rejuvenating festival.

A hand for one, a hand for all,
A gift to give, a frown to fall.
Say your prayers, and shine a light,
Because Rosh Hashanah begins tonight.
So hug and laugh, smile and sing,
For good shines bright as a diamond ring.
Happy new year, make it sweet,
Enjoy the day and the food we eat.

Written by LJFS Students: Teah Foreman and Tali Olson

However you choose to celebrate Rosh Hashanah this weekend, I would like to wish all of our families a כתיבה וחתימה טובה, Ketivah v'chatima tovah, A good inscription and sealing [in the Book of Life].

Shanah Tovah U'metukah,

Sagi Yechezkel

Head of Jewish Studies and Ivrit